

Violin Studio: Collaborative & Group Lesson Survey

Dear Parents and Students,

To support your child in developing strong musicianship, I am expanding opportunities for collaborative playing within the studio. Playing with others helps students strengthen rhythm and listening skills, build confidence, and experience music as a shared activity.

Please review the options below and indicate your preferences. Your responses will help guide scheduling and program planning.

1. Overlap Lesson Options (Within the Regular Lesson Time)

These options involve a brief collaborative overlap during your existing lesson time, with no additional time at the studio and no change to tuition.

Shared Overlap (16 minutes)

Uses approximately 8 minutes from each student's lesson

No Overlap Within Lesson Time

Maintain a fully individual lesson format

2. Overlap Frequency Preference

(Applies only if you selected Shared Overlap above)

Weekly

Every other week

Monthly

Open to recommendations based on scheduling

3. Extended Overlap Option (Additional Time Every Week)

Extended Overlap (15 minutes)

Adds a dedicated 15-minute collaborative block between lessons

- Requires arriving early or staying late
- Adds $10 per week to tuition

Not interested in extended overlap

4. Focus Areas (Optional)

Ensemble & duet playing

Performance practice for peers

Technique discussion and scales

Peer feedback on any subject the students would like to address

5. In-Person Group Class Options

Please check all that apply:

Studio Recital / Group Performance

A performance-focused gathering where students play for one another in a supportive setting.

Technique or Practice Workshop

A hands-on class focused on technique, posture, rhythm, or effective practice strategies.

Ensemble Project

A short-term project learning a shared ensemble piece with an informal performance.

Combination Format

A mix of performance, workshop-style instruction, and ensemble playing.

6. Online Group Option

Monthly Online “Studio Show and Tell”

A 45-minute Zoom-based group session focused on performance sharing and feedback.
